February 14, 2014

To our most valued customers,

The Canadian dollar has taken a major hit in the year 2014. Due to the ongoing issue with our fallen Canadian dollar, the bank of Canada is forecasting throughout the year, our dollar will fall below the $.90 mark, and will continue to drop by the end of the year.

Since all of our products are sourced in US currency, we have re-evaluated our landed costs and implement these factors into our prices with a price increase.

Effective March 15, 2014, our warehouse prices in Canadian currency will increase by 8%. This increase will apply to all warehouse orders placed to ship on or after March 15, 2014.

Our stock of products that were received at the old exchange rates are limited, and once they have been all been turned over; we will bill at the new cost, regardless of the price increase effective date.

Our customer service representative and sales rep will advise you in advance on stock status prior to your order.

Thank you for your ongoing support!

Sincerely,
